

"LAUGHING GAS"

Mime Comedy Solo by & with BARTUSCHKA

Director: Ron Agenant

Duration: 90 min

There are no funny women. Even BARTUSCHKA couldn't disagree to this, as she's acting silently (at least on stage).

This is one good reason why you shouldn't miss "Laughing gas".

This show's perfect for all who love modern pantomime, grotesque puppetry - and clowning for adults.

Come and join the ride from medieval times through urban mess to wild wild west. Feel the tragicomedy that lies in an endless déjà-vu of a more and more desperate office worker's morning routine.

Be surprised by the awakening cruelty of a neat 90 year old lady.

Finally, if you're into black humour:

Meet a clown whose best mates might be Charlie Chaplin, ... but Stephen King, too!
